

2012 National Conference on Pavement Preservation

Nashville, Tennessee

Plan now to attend the Spring 2012 National Conference on Pavement Preservation in Nashville. More information, including final dates, will be forthcoming soon at www.pavementpreservation.org/2012nationalppconference

The conference aims to bring together pavement practitioners and technical experts in pavement preservation to discuss critical issues, concerns and exchange ideas. It will also be the first time all four AASHTO regional pavement preservation partnerships come together in one national event.

The main topic areas will include:

- Pavement Preservation Best Practices
- Pavement Preservation in an Asset Management World
- New Materials, Equipment, Technologies, and Research
- Sustainability (Financial, Environmental, and Social)
- Pavement Preservation Academic and Training Curriculums
- AASHTO TSP•2 Pavement Preservation Partnerships

In addition, time will be allocated for field demonstrations of pavement preservation treatments.

FP² is partnering with the National Center for Pavement Preservation in organizing and delivering this conference.
